

GARAGE OWNER AT COWDY ARRESTED

Sylvia Headlee Held On $1,000 Bond
Accused Of Violating The Liquor Laws

RAID MADE BY CONSTABLES

Representatives Of Horse Thief Detective Association Held At Point Of Gun By Headlee

Sylvia Headlee of Gowdy was arrested late Saturday afternoon and brought to this city on a charge of violating the liquor laws, providing $1,000 bond in the circuit court.

His arrest followed an episode in which several members of the Horse Thief Detective Association were re-luked at the point of revolver and compelled to give back the pint of liquor which is alleged to have been found in his residence.

The members of the detective association conducted the search with a warrant, and Deputy Sheriff Ed Spradling arrived upon the scene in time to see the detectives lining up on the outside of the house at a point of a gun, held by Headlee.

The defendant was not at home when the posse arrived and after reading the search warrant to his brother, they began their search, but before the search was ended, Headlee came home and drew the gun on the officers, compelling them to file out of the house, and the pint of liquor was turned back to him.

Deputy Spradling, however had more experience in searching parties, stepped forward and talked to Headlee and soon had been subdued, and he accompanied them back here, where the charge of unlawful possession was filed in the circuit court.

Members of the detective force were being "kidded" today about the episode, and the manner in which they conducted the search, as all of them entered the house, and left no one on guard.

The local association, however, has issued a warning to all law violators, and will assist county and city officers in cleaning up the county.

It is said that Headlee has been suspected by residents of the Gowdy community of having been engaged in the illegal liquor traffic for many months, but that they were never able to find any evidence against him.

The raid Saturday night was the Continued on Page Three

GOES TO CALIFORNIA FOR SIX WEEKS STAY

Clen Miller, Well Known Local Auctioneer, Will Conduct Sales While in the West

ACCOMPANIED BY HIS WIFE

The familiar voice of Clen (Dusty) Miller, well known Rush county auctioneer, will not be heard at public sales here during the next five or six weeks as he and Mrs. Miller left this morning for California, where Mr. Miller will investigate conditions in connection with his business.

Mr. Miller goes with the view of testing his ability as an auctioneer in the western state and already has several sales dated, the arrangements having been made by his brother, Tom Miller, formerly of this city, who lives at Abraham, a suburb of Los Angeles, and who has been attempting to persuade Clen to locate in Los Angeles. He will arrive Thursday and has two sales booked for the Tuesday following.

Mr. Miller asserted, however, before leaving today that he expected to return to Rushville within six weeks as he has several sales here then, in addition to farming interests which require his attention.

When he and his wife boarded the train this morning, Mr. Miller carried complimentary recommendations from James E. Watson, United States senator; Warren T. McCray, governor of Indiana; Richard N. Elliott, congressman from the sixth district; Will M. Sparks, judge of the circuit court; Walter Thomas, mayor of the city of Rushville; and A. L. Riggs, Rushville postmaster.

JURY CALLED TO SIT IN THE WALLACE CASE

Photographer Will be Tried in Circuit Court Tuesday for Liquor Law Violation

CLEVENGER CASE THURSDAY

The jury has been called into service for Tuesday, when the case of the state against Frank Wallace, charged with violating the liquor laws, is scheduled to get started in the circuit court. The defendant, who was arrested a week ago Saturday, appeared late Saturday, and entered a plea of not guilty.

The case of the state against Fred Clevenger, charged with subornation of perjury, growing out of testimony furnished at the former trial in which he was charged with violating the liquor laws, has been set for Thursday.

Some doubt as to whether the case would be tried or not, was to be decided late today, by Judge Fred Gause of Newcastle, special judge in the case. The Newcastle judge has a case starting in Muncie this week, and there was some doubt as to whether it could be completed in time for the case here on Thursday, and he was to let the court know here this afternoon. A special venire will be necessary for the case.

Russian "Holy War" Victims

Here is the first picture to arrive in America of the Russian priests who stood trial before a Soviet court when a movement to drive all organized religion from Russia was started. Monsignor Budkewicz (1), vicar-general of Petrograd, was shot to death. Death sentence of Archbishop Zelinski (2), Metropolitan of Petrograd, was commuted to ten years imprisonment when many nations protested against the proposed execution. Five others in this group, photographed during the progress of the trial, were sentenced to five years and eight of them to three years. A choir boy (upper left) was dismissed.

Americans in Berlin Report Food Is Being Accumulated in Preparation For War

(By United Press)
Bloomington, Ill., April 16.—Prussian monarchists are preparing a final stroke for restoration of the German empire under the house of Hohenzollern, Garland Powell, director of Americanism in the American Legion, declared in a speech to the Kiwanis club here today.

"Boats carrying hundreds of Prussian reservists have been and are now enroute from the United States to Germany," Powell said.

Americans in Europe have notified the Americanism commission, Powell asserted, that the military spirit is on the ascendancy in Berlin.

"Former German officers are struggling about the streets in much the same manner as in the summer of 1914 and American observers characterize the German capital as a city preparing for war," he declared.

"Americans in Berlin have reported they are accumulating stocks of foodstuffs in preparation for a scarcity of provisions, expected with the outbreak of war."

"With Von Hindenburg as their national leader, I believe that the Prussians are preparing for war against the French. This warlike spirit does not exist in west and south Germany. In Essen and occupied districts of western Germany the people do not want war. That is why Berlin was obliged to send Prussian officials into the Ruhr to try to stir the people until the French forbade their entry." (Continued on Page 6)

Thirty Contestants Striving To Break Non-Stop Dancing Record

Cleveland Couples Going After New Mark, Held Today by Magdalene Williams of Houston, Texas, Who Dances 65 Hours and 53 Minutes. Two Couples Dance Out of One Hall Into Another in New York To Evade "Blue" Laws That Sought to Stop Them.

(By United Press)
Cleveland, April 16—Thirty contestants were striving here today to set a new continuous dancing record.

At one p. m. a man appeared masked. None knew his identity, not even his partner, it was said.

Miss Helene Mayer, who held the record for two days at 52 hours and 11 minutes, said today she would wait until the excitement is all over and some one has hung up a seemingly unbeatable record and then she would try again to set a new mark. Negotiations were under way to bring Alma Cummings here to compete with Helene Mayer.

Houston, Texas, April 16—Magdalene Williams, picked recently by Rudolph Valentino as Houston's prettiest girl, today held the world's long distance dancing championship.

Miss Williams shattered all previous endurance records when she danced continuously for 65 hours and 53 minutes.

The Houston beauty, who outlasted 41 others who stepped off with her Thursday night in quest of new world honors, might be dancing yet if parents and friends had not persuaded her to stop.

Miss Goldie Hughes, and L. Kessler who began dancing when Miss Williams did, also broke the previous record made at Baltimore Saturday. Miss Hughes quit the race after dancing 54 hours and Kessler was ordered out of the competition after he had gone 53 hours because he could no longer follow the music.

ACT REGULATING GRAIN EXCHANGES HELD VALID

Supreme Court of United States Puts Stamp of Approval on Law Passed by Last Congress

VICTORY FOR THE FARMERS

Washington, April 16—The supreme court of the United States today placed its stamp of approval on the second act of congress to regulate the grain exchanges of the country.

It declared constitutional the "grain futures act" passed by congress last fall, which brings the principal grain exchanges of the country under governmental control and provides that former cooperative associations shall be admitted to membership on the exchanges.

About a year ago the court declared unconstitutional the first grain future act passed by congress. The primary purpose of the two laws was to protect the farmers and producers of the country against alleged losses due to manipulations of grain market speculators.

The new law was attacked by the board of trade of Chicago which asserted it was a taxing statute and therefore should be declared unconstitutional in the same manner that the first law was nullified. The first law was knocked out mainly on the basis of a previous decision of the court holding the tax on child labor products unconstitutional.

MUST FIND ANSWER TO WORLD PROBLEMS

Destiny of Race and Future of Civilization Depends Upon it, President Tells D. A. R. Convention

HOLD TO WHAT WE HAVE

Washington, April 16—The destiny of race and the future of civilization depends upon the finding of an answer to world problems and "on their sincere, general, broad-minded acceptance of that answer when it is found," President Harding said today in addressing the convention of the D. A. R. here.

But the president added "until the new paths are well revealed, we must hold secure those which we inherited. We shall not find an answer which will be completely satisfactory to any state, race or people."

"Such was the spirit in which the fathers of our country reached the compromise which made this nation possible. It is the spirit, I am very sure, with which the world of today must attack the problems that beset its way toward the higher destiny we all believe is in store for humanity." "The war torn world today might find cheering encouragement in a study of America's beginning," Mr. Harding said. He warmly praised the efforts of the D. A. R. to preserve and to promote those sentiments of civic duty, of broad national concern, of genuine patriotism, which includes our richest inheritance."

ARE RECEIVING APPLICANTS NOW

Rush County Persons Will be Given Opportunity of Military Training at no Cost to Them

CAMP KNOX THIS SUMMER

Persons Urged to Apply Now to Will Brann, Before County's Quota is Exhausted

Applicants for the Citizens Military Training camp from Rush county, are urged to communicate at once with Will B. Brann of this city, who has been appointed county chairman, and Dr. Lowell M. Green of this city has also been appointed medical examiner for this county.

Rush county will only be allotted a limited number of persons at the camp this year, and those who desire to take advantage of the free training course at the government's expense, should not delay making the application. The dates this year for Rush county men will be from July 27 to August 25, and each successful applicant will serve the period at Camp Knox, Ky.

For the last two years these Citizens' Military Training Camps in various parts of the country have been successful and hundreds of young men have profited by the month's training. All expenses of the applicants who are selected from each county, are paid by Uncle Sam.

Funds have been allotted to the Fifth Corps Area for the training of a minimum of 3,600 young men at this summer's camp. Applications from Indiana, Colonel Reynolds of Indianapolis announces, will be accepted strictly according to priority of receipt of applications at the Corps Area headquarters. Recruiting will be discontinued in any county when it appears reasonably certain that the state quota will be attained without additional applications from that county, or when the applications submitted from that county equal its proportionate share according to population. It is important that applications be filed early.

"Fathers and mothers of healthy boys who desire to go to Camp Knox this summer, should not hesitate to encourage them," said Colonel Reynolds, today, "Every boy will be well cared for. Under the observing eye of expert army officers he will learn the meaning of discipline, develop an alertness and self-reliance of body and mind. He will return home, bigger, stronger and better for having associated with hundreds of future citizens. His welfare will be carefully guarded. The religious Continued on Page Five

HUSBAND AND WIFE SUE FOR DIVORCES

R. Ora Flint Accuses Spouse of Improper Conduct and Eliza Meyers Says Mate Wouldn't Provide

LATTER ASKS OLD NAME BACK

Two suits for divorce were filed this morning in the circuit court, the husband bringing the action in one complaint, and the wife in the other suit.

R. Ora Flint, 103 West Fourth, alleges that his wife, Pearl Flint, has neglected his household, stayed away from home at nights and was guilty of having conducted herself improperly. They were married September 2, 1906 and separated in March of this year, according to the complaint, and the plaintiff demands an absolute divorce.

Eliza J. Meyers of Anderson township, is plaintiff in a suit against John Meyers, in which she alleges that he failed to provide and support, called her vile and approbrious names. They were married November 21, 1921 and separated March 22, 1923, according to the complaint.

She charges also that he is capable of making good earnings, and has a monthly pension, and that she is advanced in years and has no way of making a living. She asks for $50 allowance now, and support money, and the restoration of her former name of Eliza J. Cooksey.

GREAT BRITAIN TO FIGHT CONCESSION

Turkish Ratification Of Chester Concession Has Created Serious International Situation

HITS BRITISH INTERESTS

Causes Clash Of Interest Between Two American Groups Over Great Development Prize

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 16.—A serious international situation has been created by the action of the Turkish nationalist parliament at Ankara in ratifying the so-called Chester concession for a vast development and exploitation of Turkish and former Turkish territory, observers in Washington were convinced today.

Great Britain is certain to contest the Chester concession according to information in well posted quarters here, as the plan strikes squarely at vast British interests in the Near East that the London government in consistently fighting to maintain.

Not alone does the ratification of the Chester concession mean that it will be fought by Great Britain, but this action at Ankara caused a serious clash of interests between two American groups over a prize which probably constitutes one of the greatest development prizes ever planned.

Finally, the United States government itself is thrown into a delicate position, because the rival plans of the great American groups studying the development scheme, one of which is backed by Great Britain and because of circumstances which, it is believed, may make it difficult for this government to give active support to the Chester concession.

Briefly this is the Chester concession:

1.—A vast system of railroads—hundreds of miles of them—is to be constructed throughout eastern Anatolia.

2.—The rights to the oil and other mineral development are greater in the territory stretching for twenty kilometers on each side of these railroads. There are similar water power grants.

3.—Two ports are to be constructed, one on the Black Sea and the other on the Mediterranean.

Even the construction of a great, modern city at Ankara, as the new capital of Turkey is planned.

Oil is at the bottom of this question as it is found behind many grave international questions today. Great Britain holds the mandate over Mesopotamia, or technically the state of Iraq.

Therefore the Turkish nationalist government has granted a session in a territory over which it exercises no control.

The conflict between two great American groups comes in that there exists a tacit understanding between the great oil companies of Great Britain and America and the American companies shall have an important share in the development of Mosul oil with Great Britain and France.

HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSES ON INCREASE

Total of 123,137 Issued First Six Months of Present Fiscal Year
G. N. Manfield Reports

GAIN OF 12,133 OVER 1922

Indianapolis, Ind., April 16.—Records of the state conservation department show 123,137 hunting and fishing licenses sold for the first six months of the present fiscal year compared to 111,004 issued for the same period in 1922, George N. Manfield, chief of the division, announced today. It is interesting to note that license sales steadily increase year by year, for in the first six months of the fiscal year of 1921, 94,185 were sold; against 89,187 licenses issued in the same period in 1920.

Mr. Manfield points out that the six months sale this year is a gain of 12,133 over last year; a gain of 28,949 over the same period in 1921, and a gain of 33,950 over 1920. The total license sale in 1922 was 153,392; in 1921, 137,054; in 1920, 128,298, and but 99,818 in 1919.

It will be noticed, Mr. Manfield says, that licenses already sold during the present fiscal year exceed the total number of licenses issued in the whole fiscal year of 1919. The division expects to sell 40,000 more licenses this year and if this expectation comes true, then the year's license sales will aggregate 163,000. The fiscal year ends September 30. Non-resident licenses sold last year slightly exceeded 10,000 against 5,500 sold in 1919.

THE HOME GARDEN

Get to Home without a Garden?

VEGETABLES AND VITAMINES

The discovery of the food elements called vitamins, the nature of which is unknown, effect of which measures the difference between health and decline, has been called by Herbert Hoover: "The most important discovery of modern times."

It has taught us that it is possible to starve on a full stomach, unless the stomach be filled with something more than fats, protein and carbohydrates, formerly considered the chief factors in a complete diet. The additional food elements to which science has given the names: Vitamins A, B, C, and D, are contained chiefly in milk, and leaf vegetables, preferably eaten raw.

Every home gardener in planning his vegetable plot will want to consider the value of the various crops as providers of health-giving vitamins; and to make it easy, we give a list of the chief sources within his reach.

Vitamin A promotes growth and its absence causes sore eyes and blindness; and stunted growth in children.

Vitamin B, if lacking, brings on gastro-intestinal troubles, neuritis, anemia.

Vitamin C, if lacking, makes people irritable, lacking in stamina and in extreme cases, causes scurvy.

Vitamin D is a yeast growth promoting element, the definite food value of which has not been determined.

Beans eaten green, contain fat soluble A, water soluble B, and water soluble C.

Beans, dried kidney, contain water soluble B.

Beans, dried navy, contain water soluble B.

Beet juice contains small amount of water soluble B and C.

Beet root, raw, contains fat soluble A, water soluble B, and water soluble C.

Cabbage, fresh cooked, contains fat soluble A, water soluble B and water soluble C.

Cabbage, raw, contains fat soluble A, water soluble B and water soluble C.

Carrots, raw, contain fat soluble water soluble B and water soluble

Canflower, contains water soluble B.

Chard (Swiss), contains fat soluble A and water soluble B.

Corn, yellow, contains fat soluble A and water soluble B.

Lentils contain water soluble B.

Lettuce contains fat soluble A, water soluble B and water soluble C.

Onions, cooked, contain water soluble C.

Onions, raw, contain water soluble B and C.

Parsnips, contains fat soluble A and water soluble B.

Peas, green, contain fat soluble A, water soluble B and water soluble C.

Potatoes, raw, contain fat soluble A and water soluble C.

Potatoes, cooked, contain water soluble B and C.

Potatoes, sweet, contain fat soluble A and water soluble B.

Rutabaga, contains water soluble B and C.

Spinach contains fat soluble A and water soluble B.

Tomatoes, contain fat soluble A, water soluble B and water soluble C.

Turnips, white, contain water soluble B.

Turnips, cooked, contain water soluble C.

This list will permit the home gardener to balance his family diet throughout the harvest season and to provide a variety of winter foods which will keep his household free from the depressing effects of the absence of vitamins. It was this absence we now know, which made our grandfathers dull in the winter months, which made them feel the need of a "spring tonic" to clear the blood, and caused the delight which they welcomed, "the first spring greens." This list we give in the best obtainable at this stage of the vitamin investigation, but it is admittedly incomplete.

MARION PLANTS WANT WORKERS

Preparations For Large Increases in Business Made by Manufacturers and Business Men

CAN USE 1,000 MORE MEN

Heads of Industrial Institutions Report Increases of 100 to 400 Per Cent This Year

Marion, Ind., April 16.—Preparations for a large increase in business this spring are being made by Marion manufacturers and business men, who look upon the future as an era of prosperity. With heavy orders ahead to show a notable increase of business, the manufacturers here find the need of additional workmen.

Marion factories, it is estimated, could use 1,000 additional workers, but there are few vacant houses. The manufacturers generally agree that their business for the first three months of this year is from 100 to 400 percent more than for the corresponding period of a year ago. With the factories reporting a great increase of orders for many lines of goods comes the cry for more workmen.

The Indiana Fibre Products Company reports an increase of 200 percent in its business over a year ago, and the Marion Machine & Foundry Company, operating six plants scattered over the country reports a big increase of business at all plants. The Indiana Truck Corporation says its business is 400 percent greater than a year ago, and the MacBeth Evans Glass company, now employing 650 men, is adding to its force continually. Other factories are among those reporting difficulty in getting skilled labor, and all the furniture factories agree that their prospects for business were never better.

One of the difficulties is getting raw materials for certain lines of industry. Every indication, however, is that spring this year ushers in one of the greatest seasons of years as indicated by the increase of orders since Jan. 1.

More Money For Farmers

Indianapolis, Ind., April 16.—Gradual improvement of banking conditions throughout Indiana, noted by increased deposits as well as other factors, are pointed out by Eben H. Wolcott, state bank commissioner, whose department supervises the operations of 854 banking institutions in the state.

"I look for a year of good business and one of fair profits to the farmer," said Mr. Wolcott.

Reports to the department show a steady improvement in the condition of the banks, and this in turn reflects greater earning power for the workmanship, and greater activity in business and industry. Examiners from the state department travel over the entire state, and through them the department keeps in touch with the general banking situation; also with the operations of building and loan associations, and a large number of loan and credit associations.

"Farming conditions have improved slowly," said Mr. Wolcott. "Last year, the farmer who practiced rigid economy made a modest profit. His prospects are good to make a fair profit during the coming crop year. Farm commodity values increased somewhat during 1922, and the improvement should continue. Although fundamentally conditions are sound, it is a good time to operate conservatively. The farmers and the business men who operate with judgement have an excellent prospect for a good year."

Logansport, Ind., April 16.—Three thousand freight cars were handled by workmen of the Logansport division of the Pennsylvania railroad on March 30, according to the official announcement today of railroad officials, who added the number was the largest number of cars handled in a single day at the local yards in the last six months.

The announcement also stated that twenty new men have been added to the transfer docks here during the week, and the handling of the large number of cars was regarded as a barometer of a big increase in general business activity.

Cutting the Costs

THE FARMERS of the 10 Middle Western States served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are fast becoming the most important consumers of gasoline.

The gasoline tractor has vastly lowered the cost of crop production and the motor truck has come to render a similar service by lowering the cost of delivery. It enables the farmer to deliver his products to nearby cities when the market is advantageous.

To indicate how motor truck farm haulage is increasing, it is interesting to note that—

Farm products hauled by motor transport in 1922 equaled 184,400,000 tons.

Sixty-eight hundred head of hogs—valued at $200,000—were delivered in one day from 500 motor trucks to the Stock Yards at Indianapolis, Indiana.

St. Joseph, Missouri—receives about $500 head of cattle daily by motor truck.

Detroit, Michigan—is supplied daily with 18,570 gallons of milk by the same method of transportation.

The figures above are just a few high spots picked at random from an analysis of facts published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has long realized that motor power meant increased production of foods, greater profit to the farmer and lower living costs to the consumer.

Therefore, in building up its vast network of distribution this Company has kept constantly in mind the public demands from farming centers in locating its bulk storage depots for gasoline and lubricating oils.

In this way the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to anticipate the farmers' needs in marketing his products from farm to city.

On every heavily traveled highway the Company has found a way to have its products on sale, so that no matter how remote from towns he may be, the motor truck driver always finds a dependable supply of fuel and lubricants convenient to his need.

And yet, gasoline is low in price throughout the 10 Middle Western states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Final Performance of Little Theatre Society Tonight

There were still a few good seats left this afternoon for the farewell performance, for this season, of the Little Theatre Society of Rushville, which will be given at the Princess theatre tonight at eight o'clock.

Final rehearsals were held Sunday in the three one-act plays to be presented—"The Florist Shop," "The Bishop's Candlesticks," and "The Choir Rehearsal." Raymond Gregg, former director of the society, who has been with the Stewart Walker Players in Cincinnati, returned home Saturday night, and he and Denning Havens, who also returned Saturday from Wabash where he directed "The Charm School" for the Wabash high school, witnessed the rehearsals and made a few minor changes in stage settings.

ROAD TO TRUE RICHES:
 Seek ye first the kingdom of God

 Matt. 6: 33.

Control of The Press

There is a wave of loose talk about the control of the press. It seems to come largely from sinister interests that have reason to complain of the treatment they have received from the press because their ulterior motives have been exposed to the light of publicity by newspapers.

Control of the press by any single agency or any group of organizations or people is as far-fetched as it is ridiculous. The freedom that the press enjoys is a safeguard against this very condition because newspapers seek to make secure the position which they possess under the constitution by keeping free from influences that do not have the welfare of the nation at heart.

By the press is meant newspapers that are devoted to giving the news and not those that are established for any partisan cause or to represent any trade, profession or sect.

When supposed leaders of public thought attack the integrity of the public press, they attack also themselves. If people are persuaded to lose faith in their sources of information, which they read, by the same token they will become suspicious of that which is given to them by public speakers.

It is an unhealthy condition for men seeking to advance some selfish interest, or even their own cause, to attempt to tear down faith in the press, which has been the bulwark of a free people since the time of Benjamin Franklin and Joseph Pulitzer.

There have been instances where the confidence of the people has been betrayed by the press. But ministers of the gospel, statesmen and others have not always been true to the highest ideals of their calling, in isolated cases. For this, we do not condemn all ministers; neither do we condemn all men who hold public office, nor any profession for the acts of the individual.

We need more faith in our democratic institutions and the agencies which have grown up under their benign influence. We need always to examine the demagogic attacks on the things that are fundamental in our form of government.

The right of free speech and freedom of the press are guaranteed by the constitution as one of the princial parts of a democratic people to withstand the shafts and darts of all the "isms" and propaganda that is attempting to get a foothold in the minds of the American people. We must keep the faith or we are lost.

The Sugar Scandal

The advance of approximately three cents a pound in sugar means that the American people will pay $300,000,000 more for their sugar this year than had the price remained at seven cents. If the price is further advanced, then naturally the consumers will have to pay the additional bill, unless they should decide to curtail on the quantity used on their tables.

When the People's Legislative Bureau in Washington issued a statement concerning the methods by which sugar is controlled everybody involved started to run for cover. The Department of Commerce had previously issued a bulletin asserting that there would be a surplus of sugar, and the press release upon this was given as February 12. But on the 9th day of February, Mr. Hoover's statement was put on the ticker in New York. If a Washington correspondent had been guilty of such a violation of confidence he would likely have been "spanked", and in accordance with the custom his name would be dropped from the Department lists as entitled to "advance information." The Commerce Department claims that its figures were so juggled in Wall Street that it was made to appear that a shortage rather than a surplus of sugar was a fact.

Some enemies of the Administration have been trying to make it appear that the new tariff is responsible for the increased price of sugar. This is a subterfuge as the schedule has not been changed enough to account for the recent difference in sugar prices.

What is more important is the news that prominent sugar refiners, bankers and speculators, held conferences in Cuba immediately prior to the first decided increase in the price of sugar. These interests are pointed out as the only ones who will reap the benefits of the higher level that will be paid to seaboard refiners and their copartners.

Everybody who wants to explain all they wish, but the consumers are quite of one mind in the opinion that sugar prices have been advanced in order to enrich the American and Cuban sugar gamblers and not because of the actual crop, or legitimate market conditions. As usual the public is told that the Department of Justice is "investigating" but that is hardly satisfying to those who feel that prices continue to be juggled. The same conditions evidently exist today with reference to the control of sugar by a handful of men as at the time of the war when the saccharine was squeezed out of the American public in order to enrich the sugar trust.

FIFTEEN YEARS

From The Daily Republican
 Thursday, April 16, 1908

Russell Lewis, a fifteen year old boy, was drowned at Melmore about dusk Tuesday evening. The accident was a rather peculiar one. The canal runs right through the little town and young Lewis was fishing. Suddenly a fish said to have been unusually large took the hook and gave a heavy tug. The lad became excited, slipped and fell in the water. His body was not recovered for half an hour.

J. M. Higgins, the local freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, was notified today that Good Friday would be observed tomorrow all over the entire system. This is the first time in the history of any railroad that Good Friday was observed as a legal holiday.

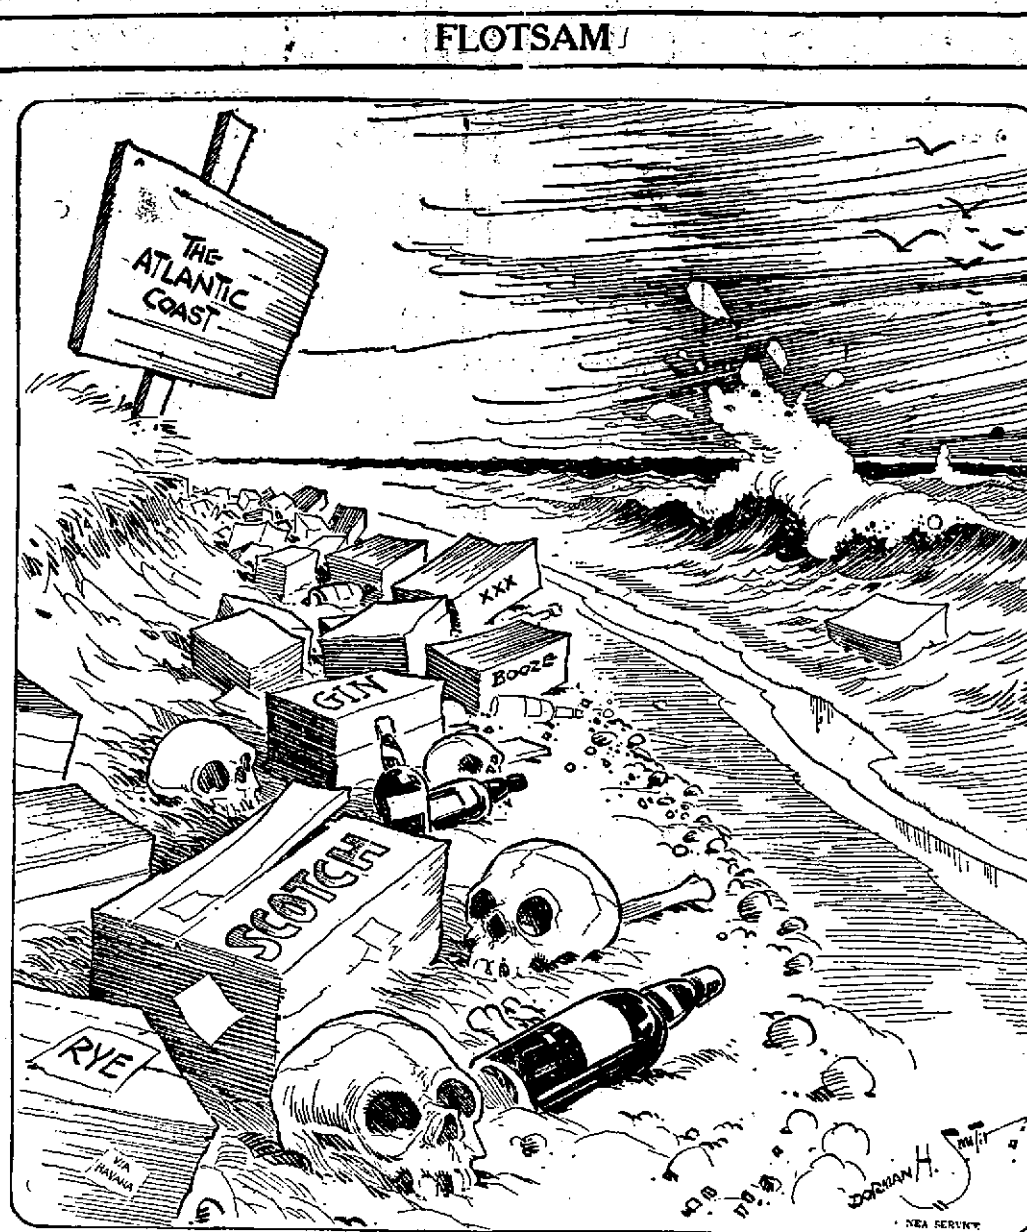

A deservedly enthusiastic welcome was given the four Indianapolis musicians who appeared here last night at St. Paul's M. E. church in concert. Naturally much interest was centered in the appearance of Mrs. Arnold Spencer, the talented daughter of Dr. V. W. Tevis, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, and her many friends were delighted with the important part she played in the evening's entertainment.

Miss Nellie Geraghty was a visitor in Indianapolis today.

Miss Louise Bart returned last night from Cincinnati where she has been attending the Thane-Miller Classical school for young ladies.

Miss Myrtle Havens has returned to her home in North Main street, after spending the winter with her sister in Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. H. A. Cronk of Anderson will come Saturday to sing at the Easter services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, "He is Not Here For He is Risen," Mrs. Cronk is a sister of Prof. W. H. Harrison of the Harrison orchestra in this city.

Greenfield Star: Mrs. George A. Suess is the guest of her parents, J. B. Pussey and wife at Rushville.

Scott Conde, who just recovered from the mumps, is ill again at his home in West Second street.

Mrs. Lida Gregg will return to her home in Dallas, Texas, tomorrow afternoon after an extended visit here with her daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Tompkins in East Seventh street.

Raymond, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cohoe, was painfully injured by slipping on a rusty nail while playing at the home of his parents, in North Washington street, yesterday. The little daughter broke her arm Tuesday while playing.

The Hodge-Podge
By a Paragrapher with a Soul

The death of Sarah Bernhardt at least gave the magazine writers a new lease on life.

Folks who enjoy themselves so well are generally the least enjoyed by others.

Queer, but the lives of great men oft remind us that we ought to be tickled to death to remain inobscure.

Folks who show poor taste by laughing at prohibition jokes ought to buy the 1923 model on etiquette.

A forest protection week is going to be held so that the National Lumber Manufacturers association can have more lumber to buy and sell at a good profit to the saw mills to saw up and sell at a good profit to the factories to make up into furniture and things and sell at a good profit to the jobber to reship and sell at a good profit to the retailer to sell at a good profit to the consumer, the ultimate goal, the infinitum—you understand. But such is life in a large city.

Love may be blind, but no one ever accused jealousy of such a thing.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Rushville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur St., Rushville, gave the following statement September 20, 1915: "My trouble began with a clutching digging pain directly across my kidneys and over my hips. The pain was terrible and I had to be given pain-easing tablets by the doctor to relieve it. I was unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results so I began using them. I did not have to use a whole box before the pain lot up and soon disappeared."

On November 4, 1920, Mrs. Wylie said: "I still have the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I haven't had to use them lately as my cure has been a lasting one." "60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

M. V. SPIVEY, Secretary.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE RUSHVILLE CO-OPERATIVE
 TELEPHONE COMPANY:

Gentlemen:
 On April 1st, 1922, the Company had 2306 telephones in service, and on April 1st, 1923, there were 2401 telephones in service, consisting of 332 business; 1854 residence, and 195 extension telephones, making a net gain of 95 telephones for the year. While making this gain, we installed 298 phones, took out 203 phones and moved 122.

A comparison of the amount received for rentals and tolls this year with that received last year shows a gain of $1,485.20 in rentals and a gain of $1,483.29 in the amount collected for tolls, making a total increase of $2,968.49.

The operating expenses this year show an increase of $2,438.90 above the operating expenses of last year.

During the year $6,160.66 was added to the value of the system in the way of additional central office equipment, telephones and lines.

The System shows an operating revenue of $10,636.67 to which is added the Non-operating revenue, consisting of $240.00 received for office rent; $962.11 interest on securities owned by the Company, and $1,539.84 received from the sale of material, making a total revenue for the year of $13,378.62. Adding to this, the $4,144.57 cash balance on hand from last year makes a total of $17,523.19; which is accounted for as follows: $6,160.66 invested in additional switchboard equipment, telephones and lines; $667.00 invested in additional securities; $10,000.00 dividends paid to stockholders and the cash balance on hand of $695.53.

In making the above statement that the operating revenue of the Company for the year was $10,636.67, no deduction had been made for the amount which was charged off to the Depreciation Reserve Account which is $10,123.27, this amount being 6 per cent of the amount invested in plants and equipments, deducting this leaves $513.40 as the true operating revenue, to which is added the Non-operating revenue of $2,741.95, making a total of $3,255.35 the Company has received in net revenue for the year.

The following is a Balance Sheet showing the financial standing of the Company as of March 31st, 1923.

Early Spring Training at Notre Dame is Reason Assigned For Football Success.

STATE TITLE TEN YEARS

University Now Has 200 Candidates In Training For Season Beginning In Fall

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 16—For ten years or more Notre Dame university has not only won the football championship of Indiana but has proved a big factor in the championship race of the college teams of the country. The students and alumni of other colleges of the state have all asked the question of "why can't our team beat Notre Dame?" Some places they blame it on the coaches and at other universities they blame lack of material, but still Notre Dame continues to win.

There is a reason and a good one. Reports from South Bend the other day stated that Coach Knute Rockne was busy coaching two hundred gridiron candidates who turned out for spring football practice. Right there is the big reason for Notre Dame success. Other colleges have spring football practice but they don't go to it like they do at Notre Dame.

In the weeks devoted to spring time grid practice Rockne does two things. He teaches the men the rudiments and fine points of the game, and he also "gets line on" the material from which he must build his team. During the last year one of the most remarkable gridiron performances was accomplished by Coach Rockne. Notre Dame at the close of the 1921 season lost almost its complete varsity team. In 1922 Coach Rockne developed another team that was considered equally as strong.

The two hundred men answering his spring football practice call tells how he does it. From 200 candidates he is always able to find some who have the speed, size, and strength to play the game. Rockne can teach them the fine points of the grid sport and when fall comes he does not have to stop to teach the rudiments of football to any of the candidates on his varsity squad.

Purdue, Indiana in years gone by have had state championship teams. Wabash, Butler and DePauw have always been factors in the championship race but for more than ten years Notre Dame has topped the list. The reason is that the men from who Rockne has been building his teams knows the game because they have been carefully trained months before they turn out for the varsity squad in the fall. Notre Dame has built a wonderful system of constructing football machines and while other things of course enter into that schools success still much of the reason is Coach Rockne's well attended spring football practice.

Picking Winner in N. L.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 16—They may not finish this way in the National League next October. The odds are heavily against an accurate assignment of more than two or three clubs to places, but this is the guessing season. It's fun to guess and then forget all about it in the fall; if it makes one feel better to forget it then. So here's the way the National League pennant race is going to finish:

NEW YORK GIANTS
CINCINNATI REDS
PITTSBURG PIRATES
ST. LOUIS CARDS
CHICAGO CUBS
BROOKLYN ROBINS
BOSTON BRAVES
PHILADELPHIA PHILS

With such an array of talent as is represented in the first three clubs it is difficult to resist the temptation to hedge around with a few "ifs" that might cover up, if the Reds or the Pirates should come through. That's against the rules, however.

First place and the pennant are given to the Giants because John McGraw has a better team than the one with which he won the 1921 and 1922 pennants. Centerfield is a doubtful quantity, but otherwise the Giants have an all-star team. They have great offensive and defensive strength, a promising pitching staff and above all things, they have McGraw on the bench.

With an alert young team, a fancy looking pitching staff and a great manager, the Cincinnati Reds certainly should finish no lower than second place. Perhaps they will do better. With Pat Moran's club holding up in the race, as it should, the Giants cannot loaf, and a slip might be surely fatal.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are picked for third place only because the Giants and the Reds look a little better on the field and in the box. If it is in the cards that the Giants should fail to come through, the Pirates have almost as good a chance to slip into the world's series as the Reds have. McKeechne may have more of an executive task with the Pirates than Moran has with the Reds and therein lies much of the difference.

St. Louis is put in the first division merely because the Cards finished there last year and because Branch Rickey's club is less of an experiment than the Chicago Cubs. The Cards look doubtful and the Cubs dangerous, and it would be no great surprise if Bill Killifer should get his Chicago club into fourth place.

Considering that Brooklyn has anything but a striking ball club, it may be considered peculiar judgment to assign Uncle Robby's men to sixth position. But it must be remembered that Robby had no impressive club in 1920, when he won a pennant and he still has what was the biggest factor in his last victory—a good pitching staff.

Boston is awarded seventh place because it seems impossible that any team should be able to beat out the Phils for last place. The Braves have some very fine young pitching material and, handled by the shrewd Fred Mitchell, they might upset calculations by doing better in the pennant race. They might beat out Brooklyn, but they don't appear as being capable of reaching a position any higher than sixth.

Art Fletcher hasn't anything but a job with the Phils and if Bill Baker follows his precedent, Art may be minus that along about the first of August. Fletcher was always considered a game player when he was with the Giants and he proved that he has lost none of his courage when he agreed to accept the management of that outfit.

As said before, the Giants, Reds and Pirates are very closely grouped in strength. They are all potential pennant winners and weighed on fine scales they may be the same in physical and mechanical ability. But this must be considered: The Giants are a wonderful "money team." They are at their best when their best is most needed. Don't forget that the Giants will not lack confidence after winning two world's championships and don't let it slip out of reckoning that the promise of a purse of $10,000 each out of another world series will make those Giants play ball.

BARNSTORMING

New York—Ward's single in the eleventh inning with the bases filled pushed in two runs and gave the New York Yanks a 9-8 victory over the Brooklyn Robins. Babe Ruth got one single in four times up and scored three runs.

New York—Frank Frisch hit his second homer in two days and started the Giants on the first defeat of the White Sox in 10 to 6 in the last game of their exhibition series. Jimmy O'Connell got one single but Willie Kamm went hitless.

New Orleans—The Indians were enroute to Cleveland today. They closed their exhibition schedule with a record of 13 victories out of 19 games. The last game was won from New Orleans 9-3.

Chicago—The Chicago Cubs arrived here today after losing their fourth straight exhibition game when they were beaten by the Kansas City Blues 7-6. The Cubs plays the first game of their regular season here tomorrow.

St. Louis, Mo.—While Hubert Pruett was puzzling the Cardinals with his trick left handed fade-away the Browns won the second and last game of the annual city series 11-3. Homers by Ken Williams and Cedric Durst, who is filling Sisler's shoes at first, helped in the Browns total. It was the sixth successive time the Browns have won the championship of their own home town.

Indianapolis—The Pirates left today for Chicago where they open the baseball season tomorrow.

Washington—Winter weather caused the Senators to cancel today's game with Annapolis Midshipmen. They will meet Georgetown University here tomorrow.

Cincinnati—Cincinnati's Reds defeated Detroit's Tigers 6-5 in a loosely played exhibition game here Sunday featured by Sam Boine's hard hitting.

Philadelphia—The Phillies after their exhibition game here today

BASEBALL BACK IN THE RUNNING

Gets Under Way Tuesday For Another Stretch Down to The Series in October

SEE A BIG SEASON AHEAD

Club Owners And League Officials Optimistic—Battles Expected In Both Leagues

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 16—With all the old circus prospects of being bigger and better than ever, baseball gets under way tomorrow for another stretch down to the series in October.

All of the club owners and the league officials expect a big season and probably they will not be disappointed. Improvements have been made in many of the parks and the new Yankee stadium here will make it possible to accommodate more fans than have ever attended games in the past.

Prospects for a battle royal in both leagues will stimulate interest in both. John A. Heydler, president of the National League picks the Giants the Reds and the Pirates for the big fights in his league with the Cardinals, the Cubs as the dark horses.

The Tigers, the White Sox and Yankees will fight it out for the flag in the American League in the opinion of Ban Johnson, head of the league.

Three new managers will appear at the head of the clubs. "Huck" Chance, former P. L. of the old Cubs has had the Boston Red Sox wished on him and he exercised his characteristic frankness recently when he served notice that he couldn't finish better than last with what he had. Art Fletcher, another new manager, has not spoken up like Chance, but he is facing the same thing with the Philadelphia Phils. Donie Bush is also a new face at the head of the Washington Senators. His outlook is not so desperate.

Close to a million dollars worth of rookies are to get their trials this season. It is the largest importation of high priced ivory from the minors that has ever been attempted. Of course, the valiant efforts of those boys to live up to their price tags will be another big boost for the game.

There is also Babe Ruth to gather fans into the parks. The babe used to get them in to see him smear them out of the park but last year he attracted them because they want to give him the razz when he fanned.

The Babe is a serious minded young fellow now and he may be able to knock 39 or 40 of them this season.

Nearly all of the "experts" are predicting another world's series in New York and all of them expect it to be "a great season and a big success from every standpoint."

with the Boston Red Sox, will pack up and leave for Brooklyn for their opening game of the National League season tomorrow.

Philadelphia—Connie Mack today was putting the "finishing touches" on the rejuvenated Athletics preparatory to opening the American League season here with Washington Wednesday.

How to throw off that tired, listless feeling

GENERATIONS ago, our forefathers made a "tea" every Spring from certain herbs and barks to purify the blood. Like-wise, since 1926, such herbs and barks have been carefully selected, proportioned scientifically and prepared for that great blood purifier—S. S. S. To serve beneficially from one generation to another successfully is a guarantee of its effectiveness. The way we live and eat, we can't step from Winter into Spring without purifying the blood; unless we choose to suffer depression, feel tired out, and have pimples and boils. It is so easy to give nature a little help, and the best sure way is to start with S. S. S. Stronger and more useful nerves depend on blood-power. S. S. S. will give you that greater endurance, energy, strength, and a more youthful appearance.

Mr. J. M. Mar, Los Angeles, Calif., writes: "Overwork occasioned a complaint which consisted of a tired feeling and pains in the back, that finally exhausted all my strength. A friend advised me to take S. S. S. and after taking only several bottles I was entirely relieved."

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

Prof. W. E. Jenkins of Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., gave a most interesting lecture Saturday evening to the open meeting of the Shakespeare club, held at the home of the Misses Mary and Nora Sleeth, in North Harrison street. Mr. Jenkins who, has just returned from a fifteen months trip abroad, a year in England and three months in France, discussed the life of the common people of England as he studied them during the year.

Mr. Jenkins stated that the English people are not as sanitary as the Americans, although they use more soap. In summing up the situation as to cleanliness, the professor said that England uses more soap, Americans more antiseptics and France more perfume.

"In England there are no large department stores, as in America.

When the ladies go marketing they have to go to many different little shops before they are through. Each shop handles just a certain kind of dry goods or groceries. Milk is not delivered to the homes in sanitary milk bottles as in the United States. But a man with a push cart which holds a large can of milk, goes from house to house, delivering the milk and dipping it from the large receptacle to a smaller one of the house wife's.

"The English race is a more quiet and solitary people than other races. They work only four or five hours a day and their week-ends begin with Friday, and on that day they go to the country to spend Saturday and Sunday. They are a great walking race, and much of the walking is due to the temperature at which they keep their homes. So many of the homes are too cold to stay in, and if they are not working, they go walking to keep warm. Their kitchens are very inadequate. The house wife does not have the many conveniences, such as are found in the American kitchens."

Mr. Jenkins told of the courts of justice in his lecture. In part, he said the courts in England did not give long terms, as compared with terms in the United States, but once a man was convicted he had to serve his term out. There were no suspensions of sentences as in this country. Women were put on an equal basis with men also, he stated. "Women are not put upon pedestals in England like in the United States and when the pedestal falls the woman is underneath the pedestal. Women are punished just like men there, and they have to serve their sentences, also. They hold positions equal to a man and many women serve on juries there."

At the close of the lecture, the hostesses served refreshments of ice and wafers, to the members of the club and invited guests. Mrs. Wendell Wilkie, of Akron, Ohio, was the only out-of-town guest present.

The Auxiliary Club will meet at the home of Mrs. James C. Gregg Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. James Gregg and Mrs. Virgil Bryant will be the entertaining hostesses.

Last Saturday were in motion here today—having one stepped down stairs, aboard a moving van, a ferry and an auto bus and into new quarters just ahead of the "blue laws" that sought to stop them.

The couples, Josephine Krymick and Teddy Gill and Vera Sheppard and Ben Solar, never once stopped dancing during their trip from the Audubon Dance Hall in Manhattan to the Pekin here. Police who sought to arrest their terpsichorean ambitions after they had been shuffling more than 24 hours, were foiled by the maneuver and the dancers announced they would not stop until they had broken a record of more than sixty hours established at Houston, Texas by Magdalene Williams.

The law under which the authorities would have cut short the latest New York effort at the title forbids "gruelling contests likely to prove injurious to participants." It was aimed at six day bicycle races and finish prize fights, but it would have ended the dancing had it not been for the determination of the contestants not to waste the 26 hours they had already reeled off.

A dance hall here was invited to stage the finish of the contest. A moving van was engaged and a light pronograph and records carried down the stairs while the couples shuffled cautiously down, always in time to the music. They fox trotted up an improvised gang plank and one stepped on the deck of the ferry while the Hudson was being crossed. Once in the Pekin dance hall, the dancers settled down to the long grind which will keep them going until Tuesday afternoon if the record is to be broken.

"The drama of the Ruhr is not that of resistance to France; it is that of resistance of Prussia. The Bavarians and Westphalians and Saxons are beginning to realize that Prussia is no longer the master of Germany's destiny. But Berlin cannot give up her dream of world conquest."

"American people should beware of that element of German-Americans who are far more German than the Germans themselves." Powell said his information on the hurried emigration of Prussian reservists was given by Americans in Germany and by others who were travelling between the United States and Germany. The information was said, but the commission is investigating.

WAITS 3 YEARS TO SLAY HER BETRAYER

Anna Diadone, 17, Declares She Is Glad She Killed Frank Taranto, 40, Of Chicago

WAS A ROOMER AT HER HOME

Chicago, April 16.—Anna Diadone, 17, who waited three years to slay Frank Taranto, 40, the man she says betrayed her, declared today that she was "so glad I killed him that if I was out of jail I would go to a show."

Taranto was shot to death yesterday by the girl, police said she admits, when he walked to the door of the Diadone home and knocked.

The girl told police she had kept a revolver hidden in her room waiting for return of Taranto, a former roomer with the family, since she alleges, he assaulted her three years ago.

As the man started to enter the house she started shooting and shouting:

"You ruined me."

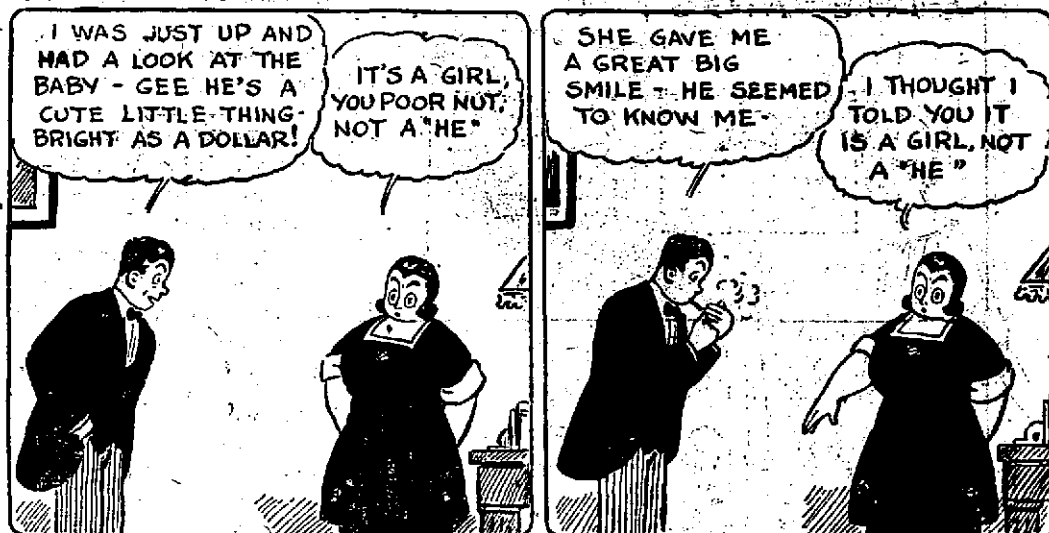

She fired six shots, all that were in the gun.

She said she determined upon her revenge after hearing her mother say that a girl so attacked had "lost her honor and was no good anymore."

"Because of this man, I was dishonored. I could never marry," Anna told detectives at the juvenile detention home. "I believe the priest will forgive me."

After Taranto fell dead Miss Diadone walked to the body and kicked it. She then leaned on the fence that surrounds the Diadone home and waited for police to arrest her.

"The Prisoner of Zenda," which comes Wednesday and Thursday to the Princess Theatre is one of the season's super plays. The magic of Rex Ingram, director of "The Four Horsemen," has given this old Anthony Hope classic of love and intrigue and adventure a new performance on the screen. And as it comes to life in all the beauty and magnificence which only the screen could give it, it becomes a thing of pure romance and enchantment.

This picture may or may not have cost Metro a million dollars, but it is certain that it could have been no more beautiful nor no more impressively made had it cost ten times that amount. It would be impossible to suggest actors who could better the performance of the various members of the cast which has been assembled to impersonate the roles of these familiar characters who have thrilled thousands either through the printed page or in the Edward Rose stage version.

Lewis Stone gives a flawless performance of the dual role of Rassendyll and King Rudolph. Alice Terry is a most charming and regal Princess Flavia. Robert Edeson is an ideal Colonel Sapt and Stuart Holmes and Ramon Navarro as Black Michael and Rupert of Hentzau are the perfect villains of your imagination. Others who give splendid performances are Barbara La Marr, Malcolm McGregor, Edward Connelly and Lois Lee.

The photography which is of rare beauty, is by John F. Seitz.

"As a matter of fact 'bout the only difference there is between new clothes and those that have undergone treatment by the Twentieth Century Cleaners and Pressers is—the price. And boy, that's a big difference indeed!"
